

Education Abroad Annual Student Activity Summer 2015 – Spring 2016

EAO MISSION STATEMENT

The Education Abroad Office at Seattle University promotes meaningful study abroad and global immersion experiences for students, faculty, and staff by facilitating exploration of options, preparation before departure, and reintegration upon return.

2015-2016 HIGHLIGHTS

523 students participated in international study, internships and volunteer programs in 51 countries

35% of study abroad students participated in Faculty-led, short-term programs

Top 5 Destinations include: Mexico, France, Spain, Italy, Germany

New Education Abroad Sponsored Model, which will offer more than 70 programs, compared to six in previous years, allows the use of institutional scholarships toward international sponsored program costs, beginning Fall 2016

EDUCATION ABROAD PROGRAMS

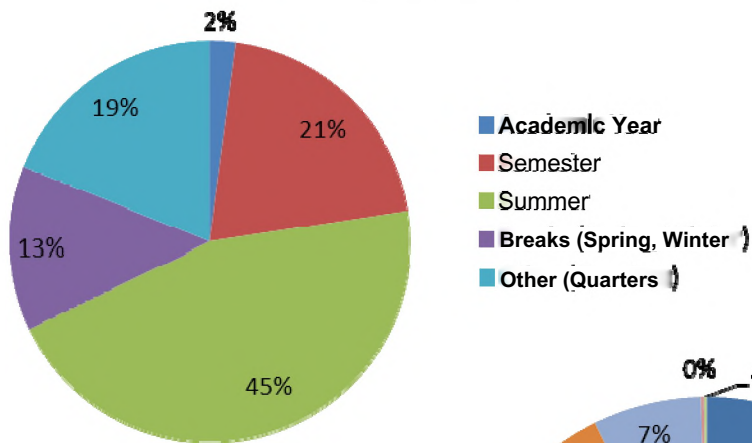

Seattle University students are encouraged to participate in international academic, internship, and service programs. Such programs enhance students' educational experience and have an immense impact on their connection to the university and their local and global community as well as to ideas, concepts, and frameworks that are examined through immersing in a new environment.

International programs at Seattle University are divided into five categories:

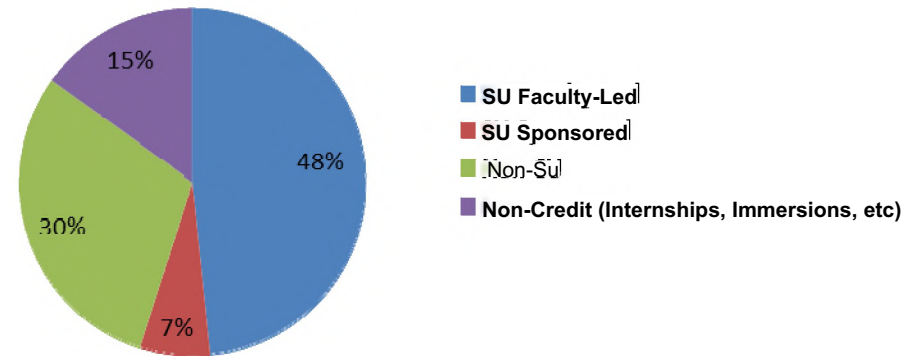

Faculty-Led	Sponsored	Exchange	Non-SU	Non-Credit
Latin American Studies (LASP) French-in-France (FIF) International Development Program (IDIP) MRC International Internships Short-Term courses	SU selected partner programs	Selected partner universities	All accredited third party provided programs approved by SU	International immersions and service

STUDENT TESTIMONIES

“Community service changed me as a child, but now world travel has changed me as a young adult. I see the two becoming more important to me every day.”

Bailee Hiatt
Xavier Global House Outreach Program in Mexico
Spring 2016

“While studying abroad is helpful in the obvious way of helping earn a degree or helping improve language skills, being abroad is a learning experience on its own. Learning to travel and learning about myself have been invaluable experiences that I would have never had if I’d never studied abroad. I hope to remember what I’ve learned – both in the classroom as well as outside of it – to help me in my future.”

Maura Schmitt
