CRIME & JUSTICE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

2025 Annual Report

Advisory Committee Overview

The Seattle University Crime & Justice Advisory Committee, now in its 22nd year, works with the Department of Criminal Justice, Criminology & Forensics through our Crime & Justice Research Center to develop collaborative initiatives including research, internships, practicum courses, continuing education, and public events. Agencies on the committee and representative committee members help our students succeed in professional career advancement.

SUMMARY OF LAST YEAR'S MEETINGS

In our 2024 annual luncheon we posed the question - How can we enhance support for our demographically diverse student body to prepare them to enter careers in criminal justice, criminology, and forensics? We discussed professional advice that advisory committee members could share with our students, how agencies support diversity in new recruits to create cultural change, and how our department can best assist students in transitioning from academic study to their careers. The 2024 Innovation in Criminal Justice Education Award went to Bonnie Glenn, Interim Director, Seattle Office of Professional Accountability. The 2024 Distinguished Alumni Award went to James Kim, MACJ '10, Sergeant, Seattle Police Department. At our mid-year meeting, Felicia Cross and her colleagues from the WA State Office of Independent Investigations presented the work they are doing in OII.

Alumni Spotlight!

Doug R. Johnson, Class of 1996

Since graduating from Seattle University in 1996, Doug Johnson has built a career dedicated to serving and protecting the people of Seattle. He joined the Seattle Fire Department in 1999 and worked his way up to Captain, leading crews through fires, rescues, and large-scale emergencies. Off the fireground, Doug focuses on creating positive change within the department, co-leading the city's Race and Social Justice Initiative and serving as President of the Seattle Black Firefighters Association. He is also passionate about mentoring future firefighters through the Senior Cadets Program, helping prepare the next generation for success.

BEN WHITEAKER
BA FORENSIC PSYCHOLOGY

Ben Whiteaker is pursuing a BA in Forensic Psychology and plans to graduate June 2026. Ben is interested in the impact of policies and practices at intersection of mental health and criminal justice on justice-involved individuals and in working in mental health counseling with incarcerated individuals, especially youth in Washington State. Ben is also interested in trauma informed policing, police wellness, and the need for police to understand both their own mental health and the people's their interacting with on the streets. Ben currently serves as a Research Analyst with the Seattle Police Department's Before the Badge Evaluation responsible for notetaking in interviews with Seattle Police recruits and officers on the impact of police training. Ben's career goal is to work in the intersection of mental health and criminal justice in the Washington State Department of Children Youth & Families Juvenile Rehabilitation or Department of Corrections. They plan to pursue his master's in counseling with hope to become a mental health professional working in juvenile and/or adult corrections. Their own experiences with mental health and trauma guide and inform their work and help them connect and empathize with those they will work with. They believe that juvenile justice needs to be trauma informed, and that rehabilitation and restoration happens at the intersection of mental health and criminal justice.

GRADUATE BLUME CJ SCHOLAR

TESS HARBERT
MACJ, INVESTIGATIVE CRIMINOLOGY

Tess is pursuing her MA in Criminal Justice, Investigative Criminology and plans to graduate June 2026. Tess has a BS in Psychology with a Minor in At-Risk Youth and a BA in Criminal Justice and Criminology from Washington State University where she graduated in 2024 Suma Cum laude. As an undergraduate she worked in the Complex Social Interactions Lab at WA State University as a research assistant and conducted research for the National Science Foundation Research Experiences for Undergraduates. She is interested in the intersection of criminal justice and mental health. Her research as an undergraduate focused on policing and mental health examining how officers identify cognitive impairment and adjust their response, Crisis Intervention Training (CIT) and de-escalation in law enforcement. In her graduate research she has continued research focusing on the intersection of criminal justice and mental health examining competency determination in the courts and has continued her research on CIT and law enforcement. Tess currently serves as a Research Analyst for the Seattle Police Department's Micro-Community Policing Plans assigned to the North Precinct. She plans to pursue a career in criminal investigation and crime analysis.

COMMUNITY-ENGAGED LEARNING IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE: PRELIMINARY RESULTS & FUTURE DIRECTIONS

Bridget Joyner-Carpanini, Julia Paczkowski De Oliveira, Alondra Martinez-Villalobos, & Brenna Fain

Examine the extent to which CEL:

1. Humanizes members of groups socially defined as deviant, criminal, or delinquent;
2. Engages students to critically reflect upon social change that will impact the criminal justice system;
3. Fosters a concern for justice and promotes long-term social engagement among students; and
4. Provides high impact educational content that improves learning and skills development.

432 Reflection Narratives

- Has your view of individuals going through the criminal justice system changed? How?
- How does your understanding of the community change as a result of your participation in this project?

Drug Induced Homicide Statutes by State

Created with Datawrapper

Updated as of August 2025*

RCW 69.50.415

1. A person who unlawfully delivers a controlled substance in violation of RCW 69.50.401(2) (a), (b), or (c) which controlled substance is subsequently used by the person to whom it was delivered, resulting in the death of the user, is guilty of controlled substances homicide.
2. Controlled substances homicide is a class B to chapter 9A.20

Systematic Review

- What policies exist in the United States that have led to discernible changes in fatal overdose rates?

Legal Review

- What cases are being prosecuted under this statute and how often have they resulted in a conviction?
- What evidence needs to be present to move forward with prosecuting a crime under this statute? What elements influence the choice to prosecute?

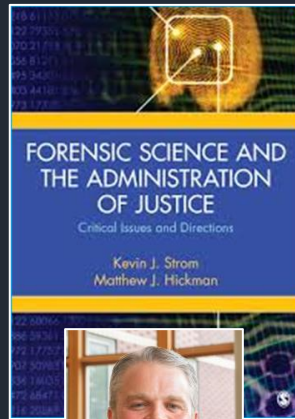

Fatal Overdose Data

- Are fatal overdoses higher or lower in counties that more frequently prosecute individuals under this statute? Does it have a deterrent effect?
- Are there other factors in those areas that negate that effect?

TODAY'S DISCUSSION

Seattle University is moving to a Semester system summer 2026. This change provides an opportunity to reexamine our curriculum and Crime & Justice Research Center collaborations and events in light of this change. What do you see as emerging challenges, opportunities, the future of the criminal justice landscape that we need to consider in our curriculum and Crime & Justice Research Center collaborations and events?"

- ? How can we best prepare students for these emerging challenges and opportunities?*
- ? How can our curriculum reflect emerging challenges and opportunities?*
- ? What do we want to keep/change? (e.g., curriculum, specializations, certificates)*
- ? In what ways can our Crime & Justice Research Center and collaborations with the Crime & Justice Advisory Committee help to meet these challenges and opportunities?*

Followed by Q&A with Student Leaders!
